

Antonio Sanz Ruiz

Education

- 1973–1979 Receives the title of Dentist with maximum distinction at the Faculty of Dentistry University of Chile
- 1980–1983 Specialist in Periodontics from the University of Chile. (Santiago Chile)
- 1990 Specialist in Oral Implants from the Complutense University, Madrid, Spain.
- 1992 Training program in Oral Implantology at the Branemark Osseointegration Center in Skövde Sweden and Branemark Clinic, Goteborg, Sweden.
- 2005–2007 Specialist in Oral Rehabilitation by the Foundation for Bioesthetic Dentistry USA. Training program in Bioesthetic Dentistry Levels I – II – III and IV.

Work Experience

- 1999 Assistant Professor in Oral implantology at the Faculty Of Dentistry University of Chile .
- 1992–1998 President of the Periodontal Society of Chile.
- 1990–2000 Head professor at the graduate program in Oral Implants at the Faculty of Dentistry University of Chile
- 2001–2005 Director of the graduate program in Oral Implants at the Faculty of Dentistry Mayor University, Chile
- 2007–to present Head professor at the Periodontics and Implant department at the Faculty of Dentistry University of the Andes, Chile.
- 2008–to present, Faculty member of the OBI Foundation for Bioesthetic Dentistry U.S.A .
- 2009–2019 Director of the graduate program in Periodontics, Faculty of Dentistry at the Andes University, Chile.
- 2009–2019 Director of the graduate program in Oral Implants, Faculty of Dentistry at the Andes University, Chile
- 2014–Receive the grade of Faculty Member of the OBI Foundation for Bioesthetic Dentistry
- 2015–2019 Director of the OBI Foundation for Bioesthetic Dentistry Latin American division.

Private practice in Periodontics, Implant dentistry and Oral Bioesthetic Rehabilitation.

Author and co-author of multiple articles in Periodicity topics and oral implantology.

Co-author of books on Oral Implantology and Oral Physiology.